The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The examiner could not find fair suggestion for the atomic oscillator with PLL and synthesizer creating first and second frequencies, respectively, using the oscillation signal and mixing the two signals to produce the RF signal...in addition to all else claimed. The references cited by examiner all show general atomic oscillators with PLL and synthesizers but not combination of the outputs from both these devices with the required frequency setting unit. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Arnold M. Kinkead whose telephone number is 571-272-1763. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri, 8:30 am -5 pm.
